There's no better armor than love when it's strong
When the heart beats so frail
There's no better shield in the world
Than love when it's strong

Come to me baby, hold my hand
Grip me hard, as close as you can
Form a bond, there isn't much time
Defend your life and defend mine
Whoa whoaoaoa

There's no better armor than love when it's strong
When the heart beats so frail
There's no better shield in the world
Than love when it's strong

Sometimes we just don't see the same way
There is no love that's perfect everyday
Doesn't matter who is wrong or who is right
Just come here and squeeze me with all your might
Whoa whoaoaoa

There's no better armor than love when it's strong
When the heart beats so frail
There's no better shield in the world
Than love when it's strong

We can talk without speaking
Be like one in your thinking

There's no better armor than love when it's strong
There's no better armor than love when it's strong
There's no better shield in the world
