Crawling helpless through my scornful mind
Looking upon my inner thoughts
Bless the stars my company in the night
Demoniaced, fettered in shackles of light
I feel rage for the disdainful burning sun
Whose light makes me paralysed
Damned to live in the eternal darkness
Please just for once let me bear the sunset
A runaway in a world of sin
Alone I see the spirits fade away
Bless the stars my company in the night
Demoniaced, fettered in shackles of light
I feel rage for the disdainful burning sun
Whose light makes me paralysed
The need for sorrow makes me weaker
Bring death into my heathen heartwhole soul
Unchain the shackles round my neck
Shackles that keep me fettered
Damned to live in eternal darkness
Please just for once let me bear the sunset
Bless the stars my compani in the night
Demoniaced, fettered in shackles of light
Bless the stars my company in the night
Demoniaced, fettered, fettered in shackles of light...
