In the night I look at you and see that you're not right
Your dreams I know they must be rough
Tossing around I see you've had enough

If there was anything that I could do for you I swear
In the night I'll always be there

Tell me now is it an evil you can't speak about
Or a place where you just can't get out
Waiting for your prince to come around

If there was anything that I could do for you
I'd come inside and I'd protect you

What went wrong did I go away too long
I was just trying to write your song
When your demons came along
If there was anything that I could do for you
I'd come inside and I'd protect you

Why can't I ever seem to read between the lines
I'm thinking everything is going fine when I step upon a mine
Yeah yeah
If there was anything that I could do for you
I swear in the night I'll always be there
