From the sorrow that comes with you being mine this is where I draw the line
When you spit me in the face by saying: what did I do wrong?
The list goes on and on

I'm gonna say it again
Give you the reason why I'm lost
The pain inside is why my self-esteem increases and now you wonder why I'm gone

In this life that we were meant to live there were no room for all the things you had in mind
I tried my best to stay along the road
You let your madness grow
covering my soul

Kept this too long inside of me and those who wont show resistance are weak That's why I have to take this out and you're the closest in line So I'll start and I'll go on and on

I'm gonna say it again
Give you the reason why I'm lost
The pain inside is why my self-esteem increases
and now you wonder why I'm gone

there were no room for all the things you had in mind
I tried my best to stay along the road
You let your madness grow
covering my soul
