Im so confused
I must be losing it
This cant be right

I never knew
that you could choose To love someone
then change your mind

So I just wonder why
And was it something i said.

You tell me once,
You tell me twice,
You tell me three times more.
Tell me everything i want to hear and nothing more.
Cause you know I am on your side
no matter what you do with every consequence
its your defense on why its mine and i could take it if i knew just why i waste my time with you so i just have to find out was is something i said

to you???

and was is something we cant work through
was it something
i made you do
or was that something you?

so let me ask you
i just have to know
if your not mine
do you feel free

have what you need
or do you still feel scared inside

cause i am on the line and dont know what to do no you know i am on the line so
was it something
i said to you?
and was it something
we cant work through
was it something
i made you do
or was that something you?

sometimes im bold and brash sometimes im prone to crash sometimes i say to much and sometimes its not enough but ill never hold you back from something you want so bad just tell me so im not sad was it something i said

we cant work through
i made you do
we just cant work through something, something something you.
