The winter now is finally passed I'm re-acquainted with my dreams all that was done yesterday the things that I believed I feel a new strength restored in me

I wonder what you're thinking now or if you even see You wish that you could change the past Have you taken all you need
I know that you're not laughing now

[chorus]
Many years have gone by my friend
So many miles down the road
The wheel still runs and I ride the spokes each new season brings

[chorus]
Darkness falls on behind me
I'm starting now to find my way It's over now and you're nowhere near I still can't hear your name
