If it wasn't for the bass, I wouldn't need these hearing aids.

If it wasn't for mistakes, I probably wouldn't be here today.

10 years ago I was 22.

20 years ago I was 12.

30 years ago I was 2.

But when I came out my momma I was zero.

When I came out my momma I was zero. (x3)

I was zero when I came out my momma, and now everybody knows.

In the before life, I was undead.

I was home schooled, there were no rules.

But I gave it all up, just for the chance to go public.

A celestial scarecrow dancing with the puppets.

A tug in my gut, I'm carrying the world in my stomach.

I'm a surrogate mother-fucker the girls love it.

Birth the suffix and cut the visible string.

Controls much more than a physical thing.

I was born into it, and before I knew it.

I saw the students of poor gettin' hauled off to war.

The law of Judas in the land of the king's tax.

Partaking the Eucharist, then demand your kick-backs.

Spiritual wrist slap, please pass the sacrament.

Ask if big bad black Jesus was African.

Selling a click track, call it a soul-clap.

It's all in how you package it.

The power of a magic trick.

Immaculate concepts, lost in the land of the cross.

I'm standing off with a man of the cloth.

he knows the ins and out's and all I wants the outs.

hes selling real estate for some place in the clouds.

But I'm not investing in intellectual property.

Inventing gender-bending technology.

Because maybe everybody needs to just become a sexual oddity.

Leaving birth to the test tubes and death to the lottery.

There's no one stopping me, I've gotta be self-regulating.

Wealth is escalating, but my poverty was entertaining.
I'm debating, the value of a caste system.
I'm cash backed for wars and wars funded by my tax income.
I find my part of the problem in part of me.
There's always been a difference between what I am and what I wanna be.

It's either Jihadist freak or Jesus seamster.
I heard god is cumming and shes a screamer.

I couldn't understand what she was telling me.
Why everyone thinks that they're their own worst enemy.
I followed the manual and I swallowed the skeleton key.
And it unlocked the hell in me.

(So this is my gift to god!) Rippin' at my dick like a tourniquet, syphilis!
(This is my gift to god!) I'm jumpin' out the cake, naked with a shank.
(This is my gift to god!) Unwrap the package confetti made of maggots.
(This is my gift) You call that talent? here's your image back, you can have it.
