Take your time and tell me where you lie
I realise that we've been found out this time
We should stay together if we can
But what you've planned there's a difference between

What you're gonna say in private
You still want my love we're in this together
And what you're gonna do in public
Say you were never in love that you can remember

So discreet I never tried to meet
Your friends or interfere I took a back seat between

What you're gonna say in private
You still want my love we're in this together
And what you're gonna do in public
Say you were never in love that you can remember

What you gonna say, ay
When you run back to your wife?
I guess it's just the story of my life
What you gonna say?

What you're gonna say in private
You still want my love we're in this together
And what you're gonna do in public
Say you were never in love that you can remember
