Its time to be more wise
Its time to see the rain falling from the skies
Its time for me to kiss the earth again
Its time to let the life running through the roots again
Hey you return hey you return
And everything will be better than before this time you will open the door
Again and again you will be born
And all sad pages from your life will be torn Hey you return

Tomorrow you will be forced to wake-up
And all your nightmares can finally come to stop
They will be thousands and thousands of men
In hormony they will pray love and die again
