Hush little darling, don't you cry
Every little thing's gonna be alright
Don't worry, don't be afraid
Every little thing's gonna be ok
Open up your heart, unlock the cage
Turn the key and break the chains
Love will always find a way
If you want love you gotta give love away

Give love, give your love away
Give love, give your love away
Give love, give your love away now
Give love, give your love away
Give love, give your love away
Give love, give your love away
Give love, give your love away now
Give love, give your love away

Love is life and life is living Living is love and love is giving
When we live for love it gives life meaning
When we live to give love, there's no way to fill in this feeling of kindness and love's inside us nobody can sell this or try to buy this 'cause love is priceless and it guides us lifts us up and ignites us love can wind us and remind us love has no limit 'cause love is timeless hate and fear will try to blind us but love unites us, nobody can fight this 'cause love is righteous and it might just save the whole world from this global crisis throw your hands up if you know what the time is open up your heart and let it shine the brightest

Give love, give your love away
Give love, give your love away
Give love, give your love away now
Give love, give your love away
Give love, give your love away
Give love, give your love away
Give love, give your love away now
Give love, give your love away

I believe the very best philosophy is when we live to give love with generosity giving consciously and constantly when we all give love there's no stopping "we"
Just open up your door and let your love pour
When you open up to love you can never be poor
'cause there's always more inside the core way more in store than you can bargain for An infinite of love for us to share just throw your hands up in the air wave from all around the atmosphere show the whole world how much you care
We gotta give everybody love and respect
'cause what we give is what we get

Come on

Always remember, never forget what we give is what we get

Give love, give your love away
Give love, give your love away
Give love, give your love away now
Give love, give your love away
Give love, give your love away
Give love, give your love away
Give love, give your love away now
Give love, give your love away

Hush little darling, don't you cry
Every little thing's gonna be alright
Don't worry, don't be afraid
Every little thing's gonna be ok
Open up your heart, unlock the cage
Turn the key and break the chains
Love will always find a way
If you want love you gotta give love away

Give love, give your love away
Give love, give your love away
Give love, give your love away now
Give love, give your love away
Give love, give your love away
Give love, give your love away
Give love, give your love away now
Give love, give your love away
Give love
Give love
Give love...
