--Translation by Steve Nickolas--

(Note: "Sailormoon" is written as one word in the original Japanese, not two. See above.)

suddenly I turn my head feeling as if my name had been called softly blooming, the pale flower of anxiety the one looking was myself please
hold (my) hand
stay by (my) side
just a little more
hey look
from long ago, that white Moon

shining as gold
this is
a hidden palace
within (my) heart, all at once the flower of a beating heart blooms since I got the key to the mystery of the blue star (i.e., Earth)
I'm always knocking

*your voice
?your face
?your body
?open them all up

?show (me)
?they become one, Crystal Power
?Sailormoon
?call me, be strong
?look at me

suddenly I stand up feeling as if my name had been shouted softly blooming, the pale flower of tears the one seeking was myself
please
embrace (my) shoulders
kiss (me)
from long ago, that white Moon

shining as silver
this is
a hidden palace
within (my) heart, all at once the flower of a sparkling heart blooms since I found the key to the memory of the blue star I'm always knocking

?your dream
?your path
?your heart
?open them all up
?show me
?they become one
?Crystal Power
?Sailormoon
?call me
?be strong
?look at me
