There's a full moon tonight, hold on
If I ask you, you might, so I'll hold on Driving along in my car
Taking much too long to say goodnight

Far away from the world so high-wired
There's a boy and a girl and they're so tired
Driving along in search of Something they know can't be found
Can't be found

(Chorus:)

But the starlight is making it all seem right
Wish I could steal the magic I feel in the daylight
And by starlight, making it all seem right
Starlight reveals the magic is real - hold me tight
Loving by starlight makes the world unite

Would they miss us out there? I don't know
But the wind's in your hair, so let's go
We could be wasting all of our lives, and what for?
Just look up to the stars, they know
They've been up there a long time and they know
That working our whole lives for silly things we don't need

I don't need...

(Repeat chorus)

(Loving by starlight makes the world unite)

Loving by starlight makes the world unite.
