"Who cares"

I was caught up in the system so bad
That it chewed me up and then just spat me out
I was just another cog in the wheel
Of that great machine we always fight about
But now I'm back on the case
I'm in love again with the human race
For now I'm back in the play
And I'm rewriting the script
With all the power and guts to say
(Chorus):
Who cares? I'm in love again
Leave the business games to the businessmen
Who cares? For my heart is hot
And I don't need to crawl for my "promo" shot, oh no
Who cares about the social ladder
About cocktail patter? Does it really matter?
Who cares? Who cares?

All those lonely sleepless nights
Over paper work like some nocturnal clerk - HA!
I was heading for 'the big sleep'
Where there's no wake-up call
In fact, there's nothing at all
But now, I'm back on my feet
I'm in love again with the sound of the street
For now I'm back in the play
But I'm rewriting the script
With all the power and guts to say
(Repeat chorus)
Who cares? I'm in love...

I'm back in the play
And I'm rewriting the script
With all the power and guts to say
Leave the business games to the businessmen
I don't need to crawl, I'm in love again
Who cares, who cares? I'm in love
Who cares, who cares? I'm in love
Who cares about the social ladder
About cocktail patter? It doesn't matter
Who cares? I'm in love

Who cares?
