You are Just my Love

I look up at the moonlit sky and see you floating there

I close my eyes and whisper your name

Tears are like ripples in crystal filling my heart with loneliness

For example, no matter how distant our separation, my love
Our hearts now can shine as one
You're just my love

I want to be at your side, to gaze at you Please grant this wish...

I want to fall asleep, holding you in my arms

In the same night, we share the sorrow Because I want to believe in love

For example, no matter how many wounds we bear that cause us to cry, my love
Because if we're together, we are able to smile
You're just my love

No matter how distant our separation, my love
Our hearts now can shine as one

No matter how many wounds we bear
that cause us to cry, my love
Because if we're together, we are able to smile
You're just my love
