Wake up late nothing has changed I'm still has lonely I still feel kind of free remember your smile and the way you accepted me I'm still looking for someone to save me thanx for the couch for trying to talk thanx for hangin' out thanx for being yourself thanx for hangin' out thanx for being yourself I don't talk too much 'cause I have nothing to say I don't wanna ruin the way your eyes are shinning going outside snowing all night I think of you you're happy without me
