So many friends that I happen to see have told me they're in love oh how I wish it could happen to me and I'm asking the stars up above won't you find me a boy, just a nice looking boy who will show me the way, who will teach me to say

"I love you, yes I do", and who'll promise me too that he'll always be true, so that I'll never be blue

I just wish for a gentle boy someone who's sweet and kind just a nice sentimental boy that's all that I'm really longing to find

have been telling me all about love oh how I wish it could happen to me is the only thing I'm thinking of so I'll find me a boy, just a nice looking boy who will show me the way, who will teach me to say

who will show me the way, who will teach me to say
that he'll always be true, so that I'll never be blue
