I woke up again to see
You spread out in front of me
Giving everything I want away
Distant from the world out there
Caving in without a care
Breaking as a song begins to play

(And I sing)

Come over and let me know that I'm the only one
And I sing
Come over and let me know that I'm the only one
And I sing

I have tried so hard to be
Everything you want from me
Even though you push me far away
Still I wait so patiently, hoping you will come to me
Breaking as a song begins to play
(And I sing)

Come over and let me know that I'm the only one
And I sing
Come over and let me know that I'm the only one
And I sing

No one should be lonely
No one should be lonely
No one should be lonely
And I sing
No one should be lonely
No one should be lonely
No one should be lonely

I woke up again to see
You spread out in front of me
Giving everything I want away
And I sing

Come over and let me know that I'm the only one
And I sing

Come over and let me know that I'm the only one
And I sing
