Far and near you hear it call
Unravelling maps and trails inside you
You cast your mind beyond these walls
And travel in ways that it can find you

You breathe it in, you breathe it out
You breathe it in, you breathe it out

We spiral and turn to slip these chains
Until love and only love remains
Time stands still
Time stands still

You breathe it in, you breathe it out
You breathe it in, you breathe it out

Time, time stands still
Held in the light you close your eyes
And then you see

Time, time stands still
It winds a light through everything you are
That sets you free

Time, time stands still

Stronger than ways that we believed in
Beyond this faded realm of reason
Time stands still

Stronger than ways that we believed in
Beyond this faded realm of reason

Time, time stands still
