Do you cry out from the distance Do you write down all the wordsa you couldnt bare to say
Do you fall like the broken While the shy wind it retires to somewhere new

When you breathe, next to me- you take everything, you takeeveryone and all of me

Watched us dance the devils last twist,
And the hand you- you relied on seems burnt with black You're seduced by the secrets in shadows You'll conspire, to inspire with someone new

When you breathe, next to me- you take everything,
you take everyone and all of me
When you breathe, next to me- you take everything, wont lay down your soul for me

Do you lay down all your armour,
To surrender, to succumb to someone new
