And so it begins again
A test to bring my world apart
Another pointless journey
I must depart
And yet it begins again
Despite my need to turn away
I stand my ground here
Come what may

Another sleepless night
No demons here shall wake me
Blinded by reality
I close my eyes
Another sleepless night
I feel the world just slipping by Chained to an emptiness
Beneath an empty sky

Don't believe in me
Don't believe in anyone
Nothing here is real
Nothing here can harm you
Don't believe in me
Don't believe in anything
It all comes falling down
'cause nothing lasts forever

Lost within myself
reaching out for anyone yet no one has remained to see what I've begun
Lost within myself
And so I must back down and soon enough I'm failing and sure I will drown
