"Gone"

Erase your existence
It couldn't matter less
And sink into the darkness
Forget your intelligence
It wouldn't save a thing
In a land of invalids
With an apathetic king

Forgotten sprawl of wasteland
A fragile home for some Backwards falling structures
An omen of what's to come
Memory must fail me
Shuffle off this skin
Remove all traces of humanness
And expose what lies within

Let it fall to ruin
Let heaven fall apart
Through away the emptiness
And watch them all depart
Let it fall to ruin
Let the plagues carry on
Throw away your own self worth
'Cause everything is gone

Give in to the pestilence
Avoid the rising sun
Return to ash from whence you came
There's no where left to run
You see the world through lenses
That block out all reality
Someday you may lose them
Just another casualty
