Just one more cigarette
And then I'll move on
Just one last chance to talk
And then I'll be gone
So much left to do
There's so much left to say
Each time I close my eyes
I don't want to look away
Each time I say goodbye
It's all I'm forced to say
There's so much left for you
There's so little left of me
These broken little words
Are all I've left to give
These fragile little thoughts
I beg you to forgive
I'm running out of time
I'm running out of time
Just one last cigarette
I promise this is it
I've nothing left to say
I'll live with this regret
You fade away from me
I fade away from you
The time has finally come
So now I must move on
Will you ever think of me
When I am gone
Just don't mourn for me
The way I mourn for you
