Sent on a mission to find out just how much shit one man can take
Went to the river to swim upstream but got dragged into the lake
You're wide awake
But still you're dreaming
Of the pride it takes
It has no meaning
Am I still here?
Can you see me? Please say yes
Can you heal me? Please say yes
When you watch over me, I am blessed
Now that you're all grown up you're not so self assured, you'll never know
Who do you answer to when no one's hanging round to let it show
You're wide awake
But still you're dreaming
The pride it takes
It has no meaning
Am I still here?
Can you hear me? Please say yes
Can you heal me? Please say yes
When you watch over me, I am blessed You're old enough to know better than to expect anything
Take care of yourself you should know not to depend on anyone
Am I still here?
Can you feel me? Please say yes
Can you heal me? Please say yes
When you watch over me, I am blessed
Am I still here?
Can you see me? Please say yes
Can you heal me? Please say yes
When you watch over me, I am blessed
