"Storm"

Out,
I just want to go out
On the green grass
Under blue sky

But now,
All the instruments are blunt
For now
Just for now

Well I'm not searching for solitude in the storm
Well I'm not hiding from the life
If I had only have a second chance
To turn things back on track to where they are

So long,
All my fairy tales
Forgotten places
Abandoned memories

For now,
Until the better days
When the words
Will be eternal

Do not go gentle into that good night
Do not forget to wake up when the morning comes
Some things have been said that just cannot be undone
I'm searching for the solitude in the Sun
