You like the sound of your own voice,
I like the sound of my own voice.
Turned 19, a monster was spawned.
Your career began the year I was born.

I like the sound of your own voice,
I know you like the sound of mine.
I could put it all together and make her perform.
My career began the year you were born.

I could try and make you everything.
You seem to know so much about it.
Love doesn't inspire me to love.
Does love really inspire you to love?

Hey, girl, give it a rest,
Start thinking about that dog bite on your chest.
You know you really can't expect to be on top,
With the kind of play on words like the one he's got.

I'll still try and make you everything.
You seem to know...
Love doesn't inspire me to love.
Does love really inspire you to love?

I could leave too long and forget,
Just how to be comforted.
If you leave too long you'll forget,
Just how to be comforted.
