Hey there I know you hear me,
When I say I need you near me.
Come in closer won't you make my night.

Take time until it feels right
Your eyes or the sunrise
I'd be warmer if you'd be my light

I am trying not to fall so hard
But you're breaking down all the walls around my heart.
I am doing everything that I can
You know I daydream endlessly
I swear I need you right next to me.

Sometimes I get this feeling,
One touch, I'm on the ceiling
And my whole world is turned upside down

And I just cannot hide,
The feelings that you ignite inside
Don't rush baby keep it slow,
I won't ever let you go!

I am trying not to fall so hard
But you're breaking down all the walls around my heart.
I am doing everything that I can
You know I daydream endlessly
I swear I need you right next to

And these days feel like centuries,
Looking at your pictures makes me go crazy
No I just don't feel complete
I swear I need you right next to me.

I am trying not to fall so hard
But you're breaking down all the walls around my heart.
I am doing everything that I can
You know I daydream endlessly
I swear I need you right next to me.

So if you trust me close your eyes,

Let me sing you to sleep tonight,
And when you're playing this song in your room
I can promise you that I'm coming home soon.

And these days feel like centuries,
Looking at your pictures makes me go crazy
No I just don't feel complete
I swear I need you right next to me.
