are you ok? are you alright? another bad dream kept you up all night you've ground your teeth down to the gums your eyes are bloodshot from staring at the sun given the chance i'd rather rot in hell than see you fade selling the lies they tell we'll burn the house down and break the spell this time it's time

so what do you say? we'll go tonight we'll take a load of bad drugs and stay up all night we'll ride away slep where we fall we'll slit our own throats, bathe in the waterfall

'cause i can see it all over your face you've been numb for days and day your back is breaking under the load your head is pounding like it's ready to explode

than see you fade selling the lies they tell
it's time
