Tell me, what's the use
Of living a life that I'm not really happy with?
But I'm holding on,
'Cause it's a good life
Like everybody wants to have it
What's the use of wasting all my days
Running away from myself
Fighting off whatever gets in my way
When I could stay by myself

All this time, I always focused just on the outside

It's right here, it's right now
It's time to relax
To breathe in and breathe out
There is no past and no future
I found the center of the universe
So pure and so simple
Inside of me

Tell me, what's the use
Of getting upset and being down low?
I won't keep it up
'Cause everything I am
Was a vision in my head
Gotta hit the breaks and go slow, let go
Always on the run, no time to delay
WHen I could stay by myself

All this time, I always focused just on the outside

It's time to relax
To breathe in and breathe out
There is no past and no future
I found the center of the universe
So pure and so simple
Inside of me

I'm cutting all the strings
So I can break free, take off
Let my body fall
Free fall right into peace

All this time, I always focused just on the outside

It's time to relax
To breathe in and breathe out
There is no past and no future
I found the center of the universe
So pure and so simple
Inside of me

Tell me, what's the use?
It's a good life, my life
Right here, right now
