[Atherton] Introducing ~! Everything, you've been waiting for The very thing that lately's made me stay indoors The muzzled sound you heard comin out the basement floor The first step in makin promoters pay me more The worst bet holds the biggest payoff in sports I'm at odds with every even thing your brain supports When it rains it pours, I'm out with buckets and basins Collectin every last drop until there's somethin to bathe in Nothin is wasted, when the budget is basic Keep runnin for placement amongst hundreds of faceless Bubblin fake kids with redundant creations And gluttonous agents with puppetry playlists We've had enough of this makeshift huff & puff on your tape biz We're comin up, know somethin, us your new favorites Face it, music you will soon grown fond of For true hip-hop head to kids intimidated by the genre [Chorus] Everything, you've been waiting for (everything) And everything in between Everything, you've been waiting for (everything) And everything in between [Atherton] Everything is here, six years of our lifes From bum tracks and weak sessions we work the gears 'til it's right From rough draft to re-edit to what you're hearin tonight I love rap! This expression did not appear overnight Ottawa light, a whole scene yearnin to prove there's more to this than burnin spliffs and determine some booze The chorus hits and nervous kids work into the groove We're formin grids where torment has been a permanent truth Runnin with kids who don't take the time to furnish their roof We'll decorate the cityscapes, spraypaint burners in blue I turn on the news, speak Olde English etiquette Sire connects wires and shapes soundwave measurements Treasure this like you're the guy who finally figured it out Ottawa's dope and dedicated without a flicker of doubt Either give in now or give up and get gone Cause everything is what you're gettin 'til the minute that the shit's done [Chorus] - repeat 2X sans last line [new last line] Atherton & Sire, different way, same old thing
