Well, for a long time, me, Pep, and Spin
have been involved in the fight against AIDS,
and we always say the best cure
is not to get it and not to spread it.
You should be responsible if you're gonna have sex.
So, we decided to give a spot
on our album to a group of young people who are also involved in the fight,
and they're called WEATOC from Boston,
Massachusetts.
They're just young people schoolin' other young people.

[Cathy]

Oh, God, I can't believe this.
I mean, I thought this happened to other people but not me.
I mean, I'm only 16 years old.
I had a whole life ahead of me, and now I'm gonna die!
I mean, what am I gonna do?
I...Oh, God, I'm so confused, and where's Mario?
I called him over an hour ago.
All we had to do was just use protection.
I mean, the condoms were right there.

(Knock on door)

[Cathy]

Come in.

[Mario]

Yo, what's up, man?
Hold it, hold it - where the tv at?

[Cathy]

Mario, forget about the tv.

[Mario]

What are you talking about?
I got 50 dollars on this game.

[Cathy]
Mario, this is more important than the game.

[Mario]
What? What? Alright, whoa, who's home?

[Cathy]
There's nobody home right now.

[Mario]
Oh, then so that's why you called me over here then...

[Cathy]
Mario, that's how we got into this in the first place.

[Mario]
What are you talking about?
What, what are you talking about?

[Cathy]
I went to the clinic today.

[Mario]
Oh, what you got? A little cold?
I know how to fix that.

[Cathy]
Mario, I don't have a cold.
