Seventeen-hundred people all in a happy town
Next door neibor's boy mows the lawn for Mrs. Brown
Don't have much polution
Don't have that much crime
Except for the time when a kid threw a rock
Through the Dunkin' Donuts sign
Songs of suburbia
Things ain't all that hard
Pa's in the office
Pool in our backyard
Kids in trendy clothing all play their happy games
Got lost just the other day cause all the houses look the same
Got my wife, got my kids
My happiness and health
Black kid goes to the local school
But he keeps to himself
Grabbed myself a video
Watched it the other day
Dinner's in the micro
Wife's at the PTA

Songs of suburbia

Not one single whore

Who cares what the neibor's got? Go out and get some more!

Everybody is OK, they all seem pretty clean

Thank god for Lawn Doctor

He keeps our front lawn green

Songs of suburbia

Sweet songs fill the land

Except for Tommy Salmon and his fucking garage band

(That's us!!)

Songs of suburbia

Talking 'bout me and you

Guess I'll see you next week at the Johnson's Bar-bar-que!
