Where's that greener grass you've been looking for
You can't see it anywhere anymore
You've been knocking down fences just to find it

It seems no matter how hard you try
You can't fill the void you have inside
With anything in the world says it's enough
You know that it will never be enough

So come with me
And I will show you Jesus
And He will give you
More than you could ask or imagine

Come with me
If you're looking for a Savior
If you're looking for a friend
I know someone you should meet

So come with me
Come with me, yeah, yeah, yeah

Tired of every day being just another day
You can't take it anymore anyway
You've done everything in your power to change it

It seems no matter how much you do
Well, all your plans keep falling through
Your new wings to get you off the ground, yeah
For every time the world has let you down

So come with me
And I will show you Jesus
And He will give you
More than you could ask or imagine

Come with me
If you're looking for a Savior
If you're looking for a friend
I know someone you should meet

I'm not claiming to hold all the answers

But I'm holding on to the one who does
Come with me
And I will show you Jesus

Come with me
And I will show you Jesus
And He will give you
More than you could ask or imagine

Come with me
If you're looking for a Savior
If you're looking for a friend
I know someone you should meet
Someone you should meet

So come with me
Come with me, yeah
Come with me, yeah
And I will show you Jesus
