Well it's another day
And I'm thinking about
The things I wanna say
But my thoughts are like clouds
Drifting far away
Well I admit I doubt sometimes
That I'm on Your mind
Just another face
Looking up from the crowd
Searching for a way
To talk to You now
Sometimes I feel small
In the scope of it all
And then
I'm reminded again
That the very same God
That dreamt of the oceans
And set the stars into place
Well he knows me by name
The very same God
That put the world into motion
Is listening today
He hears what I say
When I pray
Thank you for the faith
That keeps me inspired
That tells me everyday
How much you desire
Just to hear from me
I can't tell You how much that means
It's so hard to conceive
That the very same God
That dreamt of the oceans
And set the stars into place
Well he knows me by name
The very same God
That put the world into motion
Is listening today
He hears what I say
When I pray
And I believe that You're with me
Lord when I'm on my knees

Your timeless mercy rescues me
That the very same God
That dreamt of the oceans
And set the stars into place
Well he knows me by name
The very same God
That put the world into motion
Is listening today
He hears what I say
When I pray
