"Love Has Found Me"

I was a boy lost inside a man
Somewhere, somebody must need me.
Look in the mirror - I see a face
Oh, man things get lonely.
You showed me something I can't replace
You came to me for a whole different space.
My daddy warned me, momma did too,
They said, "Son, see what some lovin' can do"
I guess love has found me.
I guess love, I guess love has found me.
Just yesterday, I swore to myself
I was gonna stay free and easy.
Then my head turned around
What I was missin' I found.
From my own trap you freed me
But all the heartbreak, I've got control
Willpower when she touches my soul
Heart attack, but I feel alright.
With some more on a Texarkana night.
Love has found me.
