I am here
you are here
we are here
they are here
everyone is everywhere
no one is nowhere
we're all somewhere
there is no out there
you are here

You are here.

Somewhere a man sits alone in his car propped up on concrete blocks in the back of his yard it doesn't drive but it's got a fresh battery and the radio works, it's on one-oh-two-three (102.3) the female DJ is introducing a track, she's saying this one goes out to the long commute back
and then the song starts, she turns off the microphone and she says to herself, is anybody listening?

and I am here
you are here
we are here
they are here
you are here

Across the street there's a little girl face pressed against the window staring out at the world
she sees an airplane way up in the air she thinks that's so small, could get caught in my hair just then the stewardess on the plane says everybody feel free to lower your trays and the captain starts to move about the cabin

Alright

I am here
you are here
we are here
they are here
you are here

I like to count the people across the street in their environment, just watching MTV some tired excuse, oh it's sad to say we're all staring at the same thing, ten feet away

Break it down

You are here

you are here
I am here
you are here
we are here
you are here.
