Sun bleaches the street
I shade my eyes
See you nervous too adjusting your tie

Our suits are bullet proof
But they have us surrounded
And I realise I'm Never gonna make it

We were just children
We couldn't know our lives would ever end
We'd take it back if we could
If they'd only let us leave the neighbourhood

Their rifles glint,
their eyes train on us
Itching to shoot, greedy with kill lust

Tell us to give it up
Through loud hailer bursts
But I realise I can't and we shoot first

We ran from where we hid
The sounds of the fire fight seemed muted
And notes billowed from our bags
And ruby lines ripped apart the lives we had

Beauty is, in my head and I just can't handle it

You lie next to me
You die next to me
And as the sunlight hits the wheels
I just can't conceal

That beauty is, in my head
And I just can't handle it.
