Said you wanted space, you wrote it in a letter
Left a bitter taste for a while How could you waste all the love we made and Throw it in my face, with a satisfying smile
Cos yeah, I know we fought, but still I thought
Once said, words were over and once over you forgot
They'd make us strong, what went wrong?

I hope you change your mind if you want me back
I'm sleeping in the same sheets, haven't changed a
thing
Since you left me alone, do you want me back?
Cos I can't stand the suspense all at my heart's expense

Am I wasting my time, tiptoeing around you
Watching my words, fall down at your feet
The truth is without you I'm incomplete
I dream that we're tied together when I'm asleep
Wake up, you're gone, what went wrong?

I'm sleeping in the same sheets, haven't changed a
thing
Since you left me alone, do you want me back?
Cos I can't stand the suspense all at my heart's expense

I'm sleeping in the same sheets, haven't changed a
thing
Since you left me alone, do you want me back?
Cos I can't stand the suspense (all at my heart's expense)

The pictures in the same place, looking at the same face
Since you're gone, do you want me back?
Cos I can't stand the suspense all at my heart's expense
