Long time ago when I was a young boy
I walked to the sea when the sky was so blue
But one day my mother said: listen my son
I want you to know what your life has for you

That was when I was so free, so free
And that was the best of my life
That was when I was just a kid in town
I love to remember the time

I walked to the sea when the sky was so blue
Long time ago when I was I young boy

Long time ago when I was a young boy
I walked to the harbour to sail in my dream
But one day my mother said: listen my son
I want you to know, that your life is for real

Now that I've been through the school of life
Now that I've learned how to cry
Now that I've seen everything god has shown
I want to remember the time

I walked to the sea when the sky was so blue
Long time ago when I was a young boy
