cheerlesness by Machiavel

Music : Albert Lethecheur

Words : Marc Ysaye

In a golden cloud
I've never seen in all my life someone like you and I love you
Would you try it again
why not do it again
I've never seen in all my life someone like you and I love you
A kind off unconscious melancholy came into me and I didn't see the Meaness off my old face since you leave me
I'm sure our life can born again
It ' s my only wish
Would you try it again
Why not do it again
I've never seen in all my life someone like you and I
love you
Suddenly I feel so bad when I think you could change a day your mine
I know someone somewhere 's waiting for me and all my fits off madness
I'm above my golden cloud oh love I know everything must past
I don't remember where did the wedding take place.
