running around by Machiavel
I'll never surrender, 'cause the sun is rising on my way
I don't pretend, my feelings for you will never fade away
Sliding in the same direction

You're running around, every night and day
Sometimes your heart is cold, when I'm on fire
You're running around, like a blinded prey
Still looking for your dreams and your desire
Your desire

Nothing to hide, passion lights my soul as a sunrise
If you're ready to ride, I will ride with you, to win and share the prize
Roaming in the same emotion

You're running around, every night and day
Sometimes your heart is cold, when I'm on fire
You're running around, like a blinded prey
Still looking for your dreams and your desire
Your desire
Your desire

You're running around, every night and day
Sometimes your heart is cold, when I'm on fire
You're running around, like a blinded prey
Still looking for your dreams and your desire
You're running around, every night and day
Sometimes your heart is cold, when I'm on fire
You're running around, like a blinded prey
Still looking for your dreams and your desire
