watching the time by Machiavel
I remember your eyes, when you told me
You're mine, my life
I surrender myself, falling into a dream
Of lies
And I still pay the price

Watching the time, what I'm still looking for ?
I'm just waiting for something else, I got to go!
Watching the time, life is a breath too short
I know I'm gonna hurt myself, I got to go!

I'll remember your life , when she stole all of mine
my life
Now you know someone else who was trapped
By your vice, just lies
But he will pay the price

Watching the time, what we are looking for ?
we just wait for things to happen, and then we'll go!
Watching the time, spinning out of control
we know we gonna hurt our selves , and then we'll go!

But some take life so easy
And I just try to learn
All the secret you got inside.

Watching the time, what I'm still looking for ?
I'm just waiting for something else, I got to go!
Watching the time, life is a breath too short
I know I'm gonna hurt myself, I got to go!

Watching the time, what we are looking for ?
we just crave for something else, and then we'll go!
Watching the time, turning more and more
we know we gonna hurt our selves , and than we'll go!
