wisdom by Machiavel (Roland De Greef - Albert Letecheur)

In my forehead, a sheet of lead was seeping through holes of power-hammers My cracked spirit sank into a heavenly wave
A cloud of ether discharged the ballast
A rainbow with gloomy glints emerged out of a split of velvet then all veiled...
As if a lobotomy was overcoming me !

Since they have cut my tongue
Another 's walking in my head Following the scattering of misunderstood saliva Cut hand grows up again longer Tail of lizard tracked in a lemon clearness Gouged out eyes are born again in my back Eye of chameleon mottled in a rouge of meat Hey Mary, have you bought the ten pounds of tomatoes at the supermarket ?
My cracked spirit sank into a heavenly wave

Soon I'll hear the sound of my life Soon I'll see the edge of my life Soon I'll sniff the smel of my life
I hope that I shall soon vomit
