As flickering nightmare grazing a druid of pai and caught in between the greatness and the end Driven by prosals from darkness and mist spoken by the language of disloyalty pulling to pieces The resoults wrath on one side th dominion of inferiority granting petty and disgrace on the Other the empire of nothing sharing the illusion of the beholder to awake memories of erotic Slaying the sexuality in scaring the years of monstosity dimness from the eyes of immense Agony Bleeding the deceas the begining of the end is the greatness in death shimmering nebula of blood Lifted from sights spoken by language of disloylty delighted of being alive and waiting to die
