"To Distance Death From Life"

One chooses the fade towards death with honour or vanity the essence comes from within and Beholds the distinction left after decades of disintegration blackness a frail foundation build Upon an ending life and a never Ending death pay the ultimate sacrifice for fitting in suffer the consequence seduced by Curiosity amidst the haven of laughter cloned by the sacrilegious holder of distinction to Distance death from life blinded by hologram
A picture of your dead bringing to your knees kissing curtains of deception With bleeding lips caressing the flesh of murder holding the hand of decay to distance death From life alter the manifestation beyond reasonable comprehension opening for doubt and Betrayal betrothal to the decency of darkness once again stagnation within the shell no way To prosper and distance death from life
