To walk the night, To feel no love

To know the touch of another kiss, Never more

To walk the night, To forever roam, To escape inside cool darkness, Alone

I have wandered my whole life long

The night becomes my bride and everything else must die

World without end, For me

Unearthly night, World you fear

Love lies lurking, a wounded dingo-dog soon to decease

I have wandered my whole life long

The night becomes my bride and everything else must

World without end, For me

To walk the night, Solitary friend, Night ethereal, World without end

Forever more, Forever
