We grew up together strong
No fights, we know each other's thoughts
Those feelings that I can't express
Are words that aren't supposed to be said I guess

We are not the ones then who's to say what's right or wrong?
Now is not the time, when will the right moment come?
Now is not the time, when will the right moment come?
We are not the ones then who's to say what's right or wrong?

Too many people talking in their sleep
It sounds like they're speaking in tongues
If we're together we won't drown
We can hold each others ground

We are not the ones then who's to say what's right or wrong?
Now is not the time, when will the right moment come?
We are not the ones then who's to say what's right or wrong?
Now is not the time, when will the right moment come?

Right moment come
When will the right moment come?
When will the right moment come?
When will the right moment come?
