I hope you got the help you needed
I'm so sorry for the way I treated you Didn't know you were so defenseless
If you don't regain your senses someday soon

If you come down I hope you land safely
I know you think the world's fucking crazy but it's you
Maybe you went home to your family
If they exist never know how much of what you say is true

Who'll take care of you
Who'll take care of you
Who'll take care of you
When no one else will

Never thought you had a thing worth breaking
Don't know how I ever could have been so cruel
You needed to be protected
But once you make up your mind there's no persuading you

Who's gonna take care of you
Who's gonna take care of you
Who's gonna take care of you
When no one else will
