Taking off, see all the roads, bridges, intersections, homes Places used to mean a lot, made me love and then love not Was the scapegoat and sidekick for the first time I see it

My name here

Before IV CPR positioned fetal in your car waiting for life to begin if there's one thing I miss still

Your name here

When I sawed off my own self calculated each embrace I would fake intimacy but no one was allowed near me

You come clear

I can feel myself rise into something like life Weightless
Untroubled
Forgiving even myself
