I hear you were here then you disappeared last night
When they killed the lights
Words we didn't say your eyes that took us down too far
Than we were ready for

Came up behind me, grabbed my wrists in the dark
And said don't look at what you can see

Now all night, all night
I've been looking for you all night
All night, all night
I've been looking for you all night

Doesn't matter what I tell myself
The flame is small, but it burns it all
Sleepless questions and some sly suggestions
I could find if I could only fall

I've been wanting to touch you since we met
You don't give a girl a chance to forget

Now all night, all night
I've been looking for you all night
All night, all night
I've been looking for you all night

No straight lines and lovely wines
Out in the night where you took the light
You're all around but I haven't found you
You're coming in right through my skin

Oh, comrade, what do you need?
Where will all this trouble lead!?

All night, all night
I've been looking for you all night
All night, all night
I've been looking for you all night

All night, all night

I've been looking for you all night
All night, all night
I've been looking for you all night

All night, all night
I've been looking for you all night
All night, all night
I've been looking for you all night

All night, all night
I've been looking for you all night
All night, all night
I've been looking for you all night
