Help is coming, help is coming
One day late, one day late
After you've given up and all is gone
Help is coming one day late

Help is coming, help is coming
One day late, one day late
After you've given up and all is gone
Help is coming one day late

Try to understand you try to fix your broken hands
But remember that there always has been good
Like stars you don't see in the day sky
Wait till night

For help is coming, help is coming
One day late, one day late
After you've given up and all is gone
Help is coming one day late

Life has kept me down
I've been growing on the ground
Now I'm coming up and when time opens the earth
You'll see love has been moving all around us, making waves

So help is coming, help is coming
One day late, one day late
After you've given up and all is gone
Help is coming one day late

Help is coming one day
Help is coming
